

Join Us for an Inspirational FAM of Little Rock

Elizabeth Eckford didn't know she would change the world when she tried to enter Little Rock Central High School in September 1957. She and eight other students —now known as the Little Rock Nine—became civil rights pioneers at the flashpoint between racism, justice, states' rights, and the Constitution and shaped a nation in their quest for an equal education.

Elizabeth's story is now told at the Little Rock Central High School National Historic Site—the only working high school in the National Park system—and you have the chance to hear history straight from the woman who made it on the Oct. 2-3 FAM trip offered directly before Connect Faith + Connect Southeast.

The Little Rock Convention & Visitors Bureau is pleased to offer tours of the school grounds, the visitors center, and a rare meet-and-greet with Ms. Eckford.

This unique look at Little Rock features both its history and the present-day attractions that make it the perfect choice to host meetings and events. From historic sites to moments of artistic inspiration, natural beauty, and lots of good food, you'll discover why you and your attendees will be Big on Little Rock.

Please join us for this unforgettable experience before three days of exceptional meetings, networking, and more at Connect Faith + Connect Southeast.
